About ICSGlobal and Thelma

Founded in 1990, ICSGlobal listed on the Australian Stock Exchange in 1999 [ASX:ICS]. ICSGlobal's core business is medical banking: a range of electronic tools and services that helps patients, doctors, hospitals, laboratories, health insurers and governments to make payments or get paid; eliminating the stress, time and cost of forms and phone calls to work out who owes what to whom. Underpinning the business is our configurable medical banking clearinghouse technology, Thelma (Transaction HExchange Linking Multiple Applications), which clears and settles healthcare bills electronically over the Internet. ICSGlobal is implementing a dual-edged global growth strategy around medical banking - the expanded deployment of Thelma and the acquisition of established, profitable medical billing companies. Thelma went live in Australia in 2000 and volume continues to grow at over 60% per annum. An "all-payer" medical banking network recently went live in the US. The first acquisition was The London Patient Billing Service in December 2007 which is growing at over 100% per annum.
